To Whom It May Concern:
Re: JonPaul Construction

I have had the pleasure of working with JonPaul construction for close to three years. During this time JonPaul has constructed for me two state of the art car wash facilities. I would like to commend JonPaul for creating such a great car wash. JonPaul has consistently delivered a quality product in a timely manner and most importantly my project was always treated as if it was their own. During construction I always felt that myself and JonPaul were on the same team and they were looking out for my financial interest during the project. All members of the JonPaul company take great pride in their work and reputation and they are a very customer focused contractor. They always exceeded expectations with their ability to incorporate owner generated changes with minimal disruption to an extremely tight schedule. JonPaul worked closely with me during the construction process to insure that all of my special requirements were addressed to my satisfaction. This was one of those rare, truly enjoyable projects and I would definitely contract with JonPaul again at any time.

Please call if you have any question.

Sincerely,

Rob Blackburn, CPA
